

April 2018

Dear friends, colleagues, artists and customers

After 13 years and over 140 exhibitions at Nomad Art Gallery, we have decided to transform to a new business model.

From 26 May this year Nomad Art will move from the gallery space in Parap to a nationally focused online business alongside art projects and curatorial and educational consultancy.

Initially based in Darwin, Nomad Art will operate by appointment and online to promote significant and exceptional works to collectors.

We are scaling back our stock at the Parap gallery over the next few months and reducing our exhibition program to enable a refocus on selected work and projects.

From July 2018 Nomad Art will relaunch with a program focused on some of the great artists of the last 20 plus years, delving into the archive to find hidden gems and continuing to promote new bodies of work.

We are proud of the educational and intellectual ethos associated with Nomad Art and our close association with art centres and the artist family across the Top End and remote regions of Australia.

We are incredibly lucky to have been part of a print making revolution in the Top End and beyond over the last 20 years and look forward continuing to work the artists, print makers and collectors who have made this such an extraordinary journey!
